

NEW CODE RULES AT UNIVERSITY

Faculty Committee on Athletics Puts Finishing Touches to Report.

PREVIOUS RESIDENCE RULE

Meeting of the General Athletic Association Will Consider the Subject To-day.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., January 9.
After a spirited session, which lasted far into the morning, the general faculty of the University of Virginia last night put the finishing touches to the new code of rules governing athletics, recently reported by the faculty committee on athletics. As adopted, there are several changes from the original draft, the chief of which is a clause which directs the athletic committee of the faculty to assume responsibility for the details of the athletic situation and to permit the playing of intercollegiate games with such colleges only as express a general conformity with the code of rules adopted by the faculty.

Article IV. was amended to read as follows:

Resolved, That no student of this University, who has been a member of or substitute member of any athletic team at another college or university, shall be permitted to become a member of such athletic team at this University unless and until he shall have been a student at this University for at least five months.
The "five months" previous residence rule" shall also apply to all students who enter the University without entrance certificate or examination.

ACTION CONSIDERED TO-MORROW.

The faculty committee on athletics was instructed to establish a maximum period after which a player from any branch of athletic sport shall be ineligible to play on the corresponding team of the University.

The executive committee of the General Athletic Association of the University will meet to-morrow, when it will officially consider the action of the faculty.
It is believed that every clause of the code will be endorsed. The impression is that there will be an early joint meeting of the committee of the faculty and the executive committee of the General Athletic Association, when such measures will be considered as will remove any possibility of a misunderstanding or friction between the two organizations. The attitude of the faculty committee will be to lay down such general principles as will not interfere with the executive management being conducted as previously by the executive committee of the General Athletic Association.

The opinion prevails that the condition of athletics at the University is more hopeful than it has ever been in the past, and that the institution will at last enter into the enjoyment of its rightful position in its attitude toward the purity of athletics, for which it has always strived.

WADDELL CASE SETTLED.

Rube's Attack on Father-in-Law
With Flatiron.

PEABODY, Mass., Jan. 9.—Rube Waddell, the well known member of the Philadelphia Athletic Base-ball Club, appeared in the Police Court for the first time since his arrest on an assault with a dangerous weapon on his father-in-law, Edward Rose, at the latter's home on Lyndale Street here, February 5, 1905.

Waddell immediately after the assault made his escape, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Waddell later joined the Athletic Club, and when the warrant was issued for his arrest he was left behind. In the meantime the difference between Waddell and his father-in-law was adjusted, with the result that no case appeared against the famous base-ball pitcher to-day, and he was discharged.

Minor Baseball Leagues.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Representatives from 25 base-ball leagues, located from Maine to California, are gathering here preparatory to the annual meeting of the Minor League association to-day. The class A leagues, which are the Eastern American Association, the Western American Association, the Southern and California Leagues, will ask that the highest class of leagues in the association be given voting powers equal to the power possessed by the other 25 leagues. The class B matter, a meeting was held last night in the manner in which the request should be considered.

Tom Sharkey's Horses.

CHESTER, Pa., Jan. 9.—Tom Sharkey, the famous pugilist, arrived here tonight from New York, and will spend the night at the Hotel Charles Lanthorn, owner of the famous pacer Frank Woodward, who broke several records at the Madison Park track. Sharkey has sixteen horses in training at Lanthorn's farm. He will enter them on all the famous tracks.

HOPPE-VIGNAUX MATCH FOR TITLE

Billiard Championship Trophy Goes With Great Duel in Paris Next Monday.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, January 9.—One week from last night in Paris, Maurice Hoppe and Willie Hopper, the oldest and youngest of billiard experts, will meet for the world's championship at eighteen-inch billiard, one shot in, 500 points.
The contest is one of the most important of recent years decided on either side of the Atlantic and of particular interest in America, as Hoppe, who represents America, may bring home the trophy presented by the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, a matter which would simulate match games among the players now on this side.

If Vignaux wins he will probably retire as the oldest of living champions in any form of sport and also the undefeated holder of the two championship emblems that he has announced his intention of retaining. The latter having already become his personal property.

Interest in the Hoppe-Vignaux match.

On the other side, it is evidently detaining the interest of the international billiard tournament, to be held in New York in February or March. Although Julius Balke, of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, received assurance from Louis Cure when in Paris recently that he would be a contestant, nothing has been heard from the famous French expert as to the time he may be expected here.
Latest advices from Paris, however, indicate that Cure, with Sutton and Morningstar, will be in New York within six weeks. Prizes in the tournament will aggregate more than $3,000, and the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company will give a valuable trophy representing the world's championship at 18 1/2 ball-line.

Jacob Schaefer is playing in all his old-time form, according to reports from Chicago, where Schaefer is holding his own in all kinds of table games in his academy. Schaefer is giving considerable attention to billiard practice preparatory to the time he may be expected here.
In which he is likely to be the popular favorite, judging from good reports received of his recent practice.

At Philadelphia an old-time ball-player and umpire, is now a star in the threecushion carom game at Schaefer's academy, where Schaefer is holding his own
in all kinds of table games in his academy. Schaefer is giving considerable at-

MANSFIELD GREATEST ACTOR ON AMERICAN STAGE TO-DAY

"Don Carlos" Failure as a Play—"Beau Brummel" Written By Mansfield Himself and Masterpiece of Its Kind.

Three days have passed since Mr.
Richard Mansfield played "Beau Brummel" and "Don Carlos" in Richmond, and in considering the plays in cold blood, unbiased by the glare of the stage lights and divorced from theatrical surroundings, the fact strikes one with considerable force that as an acting play—a creation of words and pictures to please the public "Beau Brummel" far exceeded "Don Carlos."

It is a fact, not generally known that Mr. Mansfield is the author of "The Beau," and that although Mr. Clyde Fitch's name has heretofore been printed on the programmes in heavy black type, as the author, yet the great actor himself wrote the play which is as much a part of him as are the distinctive gestures without which Mansfield's plays would be like Hamlet without the Prince of Denmark.

"Beau Brummel" is full of human interest, full of that inexplicable charm that at once brings smiles to the lips and tears to the eyes of those who follow the fortunes of the most famous "beau" of all times.
Mr. Mansfield in "The Beau" does not act the dandy, he is the dandy, with all his thousand and one delightful ac-centuations, the fadish play of the hands, the "mere glance of the eye," the modish gesture of the voice, the studied clever insolence of manner, all these are part of the man, and sit as easily upon him as though he were really a beau in the old days of The Mail, and the footlight stage furnishings were far removed.
Indeed, there is little doubt but that Mr.
Mansfield is far more of the bored dandy than was the social hero of King George's day.

Don Carlos Disappointing.

The tragedy of "Don Carlos" at night, following "Beau Brummel" at the matinee, was distinctly a disappointment—not so much in the way it was presented, for the play was excellently acted and superbly staged, but because of an utter lack of human interest. The footlights were like a great impassable barrier that separated the audience from the actors, and kept anything like sympathy from passing. There was no getting "close to the wall" and truly, but while the words reached the audience, their personalities remained in staid, as far removed from the hearts of the occupants of the seats, as a blind beggar is from a miser.

The play itself was grand, but to confess the quotation, "a gloomy tragedy," and long drawn out, as was the case.
A friend asked Mr. Mansfield if he could not cut it an act. He replied that he had cut it from seven and one-half hours to three and one-half hours, but that was nothing doing. He knew he was wrong, but argued that I ought to give him a "shade the best of it some time," his club," I said, "and quit your crying," and that was the best he got.

The worst of it was Baltimore afterward won the game. But you know, it always breaks that way for me. If Cleveland had finally won out, the fans would have forgotten it. Still, the fans would glad hand the last time I was over there.
I believe, after all, that fans appreciate an umpire's difficulty when we face those hard ones.

Blanks' Velvetin Lotion

It is one of the latest toilet preparations that you can get anywhere.
It is a great favorite among the ladies. It acts like a charm upon the skin—very cooling, softening and healing in effect.

It softens and smooths rough skin, heals chapped surfaces, moistens dry, hazy spots, aids in restoring the color to faded complexions, and is very beneficial in clearing the skin of pimples, blackheads and mudiness.

We ask you to give this preparation a trial, confident that believing that you will be as other ladies are with it—a great admirer and constant user of it. You will not be disappointed in it. You will find it a

TEXAS STAGE COACH GIVES WAY TO AUTO

Honk, Honk of the Chauffeur Is Invading Western Plains.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
TEMPLE, TEX., January 9.—A well known Temple citizen, who has much business in the San Angelo country, is replacing the stage coaches in the far byways.

He mentioned that an automobile service had been installed between San Angelo and Sonora as an experiment, and was proving so highly satisfactory that it will, in all probability, be extended to other points in West Texas, furnishing daily service between San Angelo, Sonora, Christoval, Eldorado, Sterling City and many other West Texas towns.

He spoke of the country roads in that section, which are, as a rule, narrow, rough, and never impassable as the roads are in this part of Texas. The present service between San Angelo and Sonora makes the trip in four hours, or an average of twenty miles an hour, and makes the round trip every day at a rate which will displace the old stage coach entirely.

The saving of time and the greater degree of comfort make the automobile more desirable in every respect.

Sporting Small Talk.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The New Zealand football team, after a most successful tour of Great Britain, will sail for New York January 24th, the sporting men of Cleveland, O., are trying to arrange another bout between Phil Brook, of this city, and Kid Carey, of Philadelphia, who, under the name of Kid Beebe, recently knocked Brook out in a match at Sharon, Pa.

Jack Blackburn, of Philadelphia, stated yesterday that he would give $100,000 to the city of Philadelphia to build a new arena in six-acre ground in Philadelphia at 133 pounds, but that the time of weighing must be 6 o'clock on the evening of the contest.
If this is agreeable to Ernie he will post a forfeit to make 133 pounds. If Ernie will not agree to put back his weighing then there will be "nothing doing."

The following players at the Cleveland Club have signed two contracts: Third Baseman Bill Bradley, Elmer Flick, George Stovall, James Sullivan, and Harry Stinson. An interesting feature of the three-day conference at Chicago this week will be a convention of the official scorers of the league, in order to promote uniformity in scoring around the circuit. It was decided to assemble all of the scorers in Chicago on January 11th, and they will discuss uniform methods.

Washington Dog Show.

Dog fanciers throughout the country are pleased to learn that the District of Columbia Kennel Club has been organized and will hold a dog show in Washington on February 28th, March 1st and 2nd. The work is now under way, and entries are solicited. The offices of the club are in the Pope building, Washington, D. C. The club, under the presidency of Mr. H. E. Gero, of Boston, has been engaged as superintendent, and full particulars may be obtained from him. Many handsome prizes and purses have already been assured, and Mr. Gero has the promise of a number of others.

Debs to Visit Salisbury.

SALISBURY, N. C., January 9.— Eugene V. Debs, the noted socialist, who last year was nominated and ran for President of the United States on the socialist ticket, will speak in Salisbury on the 24th inst. Extensive preparations are being made for a reception to this recognized leader among the socialists.
The party will include considerable strength in Rowan, but not to any alarming extent.

Mr. Debs will also speak at other points in North Carolina this month.

HOPE TO SPIKE GUNS OF LAWLESS

petition made for that purpose, at his request, the Governor says that while he cannot report a single conviction, he is satisfied that the appropriation has not been used in vain.

"You are too familiar with the records of the past years," continues the Governor, "to know how South Carolina, together with other of our sister States, has had reproach heaped upon her on account of the dastardly deeds of reckless, lawless and irresponsible men. I have just stated that no convictions have been secured, yet, in spite of this fact, the realization that the arm of the law would be invoked, has determined attempt at least would be made to prevent its ruthless and barbaric desecration, that criminals would be prosecuted for their crimes, that the coroner's inquest and the usual verdict would not be the end, but only the beginning. These have happened to be the case, as a result, better conditions have prevailed."

ALL RIGHT HONORED.
He added that the mass of the people at heart law-abiding have found hope, discussing the subject further, the Governor said:

"Had I been able to report to you, as I have sincerely hoped, that the out-State, since your last session at least, had been spared the shame of another lynching—that for this period no human life had been lawlessly and barbarously taken by an armed mob—I would have been deeply gratified at such a convincing evidence of the increased respect shown for law and order. While we every reason for encouragement, the recent killing of two defenseless negroes by an armed mob is for every reason for be deplored and condemned. Such outrages are not only flagrant and inexcusable, but they inevitably lead to the disregard of all law, the cheapening of our human life, and the undermining of our very civilization. The lawless element must be made to realize the sanctity of human life; they must be taught the fearful consequences that follow the blind take the law into their own hands. If life must have every right guaranteed in our constitution, and lawless and reckless violators must be prosecuted without fear or favor to the utmost limit of the law."

As long as I am Governor of the State I shall use my strongest endeavor for the suppression and punishment of those who disregard our laws, especially in the matter of lynchings.

The solicitors and sheriffs are commended for the desire shown when necessary arose for co-operation with the Government in the enforcement of the law. Attention is called to the forthcoming Jamestown Exposition, and an appropriation is recommended by the Governor for participation by South Carolina, as the Governor regards the exposition as an event of no ordinary importance.

(By Associated Press.)
ANNAPOLIS, January 9.—Several legal questions of importance arose to-day during the second trial of Midshipman Stephen Decatur on charges of hazing before the court-martial in session at the Naval Academy. On a motion to strike out certain specifications as not constitutional, the court was led to substantially define the term hazing as it is understood by the members of the court.
A plea in bar was then entered to the only specification against Decatur on the charge "encouraging and countenancing hazing."

The plea urged that Decatur had al-
